PISA 2012 - Main Results and the Potential for Further Research
Wednesday, March 12, 2014
10:00-11:30 AM
Room 236A Erickson Hall

The Education Policy Center at Michigan State University is pleased to invite faculty and students to attend a special lecture presented by Pablo Zoido from OECD. Please mark your calendars to attend.

Pablo Zoido works as an Analyst at the Directorate for Education and Skills of the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD). He joined the OECD in 2006 to work at the Development Centre launching the Latin American Economic Outlook and two years later he joined the Programme for International Student Assessment (PISA). In PISA, he provides advice to OECD and partner countries how to use of international assessments to improve the quality, equity and efficiency of education. Prior to joining the OECD, he worked as a researcher at the World Bank and Stanford University. He holds a Master of Arts in International Relations by the Johns Hopkins University and a Master of Business Research from Stanford University Graduate School of Business.